CITY OF CHICAGO.

Saturday Morning..... May 29, 1858.

In Caucus Together.

Our readers will appreciate the exact value of the professions of the Anti-Lecompton Democrats in Congress, when we tell them that, with the exception of Major HARDIN, of this State, every one of these patriotic gentlemen went into a party caucus, nominated and voted for an avowed Lecompton man for the important post of Doorkeeper to the House! It is the first test vote that has been had since the English bill passed, and we find, thus early, that the war which lately existed has been ended, and that harmonious and fraternal relations have been restored. These men had it in their power to administer another rebuke to the Administration, and still further exalt the principles which they profess. The Republicans of the House begged them to select a DOUGLAS Democrat, for whom they would vote, and promised to go unanimously for his election. The eyes and ears show that this union would have defeated the Lecomptonites, who carried off the prize. But it was not the policy of SHAW, SMITH, MARSHALL and MORRIS, of this State, and the others of the "immortal twelve" to elect an Anti-Lecompton man. They were willing and anxious to show their reunion with the party, by their support of one of the most rabid and offensive of the usurpers; hence, when the call for the caucus came, they were the first to respond; and though they knew that none but a Lecomptonite stood the ghost of a chance in that body, cheerfully endorsed its action in advance.

We want our Republican friends in this State to note the facts. Four, at least, of these Democrats will seek re-election. Already their friends are appealing to Republicans for their support, on the ground of their professed opposition to the Democratic party. What that opposition is, how deep and strong it runs, and where it leads, their recent action shows. Let the facts be remembered.

The End of the Hudson Bay Company.

A correspondent of one of the Cleveland papers, who went up the Lakes with the party sent out by the Canadian Government to make explorations and ascertain the resources of the country so long monopolized by the Hudson Bay Company, explains the objects of that party. The charter of this Company expires in 1859, and it is endeavoring to get a renewal from the British Government, by representing the country to be unfit for the abodes of civilization. The Home Government having offered the Canadian Government jurisdiction over this territory, by paying the Hudson Bay Company for its improvements, Mr. Hurd, with his party, was sent out to make an estimate of the improvements and report upon the general character of the country. Mr. Hurd puts the value of the improvements at one million dollars. He represents the country as being very fertile, producing wheat, oats and even Indian corn in abundance. He says there are as many as twenty thousand acres of fertile prairie with a luxuriant growth of grass. If there statements prove true, the great monopoly of the Hudson Bay Company must end.

Douglas and Buchanan Factions in Lower Egypt.

The battle ground between the Douglas and Buchanan Democrats in Illinois is the Ninth District—Lower Egypt. The cohort are led respectively by JOHN A. LOGAN for Douglas, and JOHN DOUGHERTY for Buchanan. Both are candidates for Congress. They have taken the stump. The Buck faction appear to have the best of the controversy. A correspondent says:

"The backing down resolutions adopted at Spring-field—the refusal to express by resolution a 'regret' that good men had been turned out of office—that had man might be put in, simply for adhering to Buchanan, has stript the whole Douglas party of their covering, and caused them to stand before the world as devoid of courage and political independence, trembling under the lash of the administration, yet apologetically whining out their dissent in terms too hopelessly contemptible to merit respect.

In all this noise and confusion the Republicans are comfortable and content. They are quietly re-cruiting the ranks of the two belligerent parties, and perfecting their plans for organizing the coming fall that will seal up forever, in this great State, the destinies of the Negro Democracy. Recruits are coming in from all quarters, and our friends are buoyant with hope, as to the future. Free labor and exemption of our children and children's children from the degrading influences of negro slavery are our watchwords in Egypt. We have here tens of thousands who left the old slave States to rid themselves of the social curse of bondage on the system of slavery there. Hither they have come to seek home and land, and here they have found both; and as they gradually learn that the great object of the Democratic party is to extend slavery every where, and that the heritage of our descendants in Kansas and everywhere else is to be polluted by the withering curse of human slavery, they at once and forever abandon that organization as unworthy of their support. Egypt will soon be redeemed.

Delegates to the State Convention.

STEPHENSON COUNTY.—The Republicans of Stephenson county held their Convention on the 17th. They appointed the following delegates to attend the State Convention: John H. Adams, John A. Davis, C. F. Taggart, William Young, J. B. Ambrose, C. Van Brocklin, M. P. Sweet, and Thomas J. Turner.

ADAMS COUNTY.—The Republicans of Adams county met in Convention at Quincy on the 19th inst, and elected one hundred and ten delegates to the State Convention.

Loss at Lucknow.

The British loss in storming Lucknow was 70 officers, and 1,100 men killed and wounded—that of the Sepoy's is computed to have exceeded 4,000 killed. The Sepoys can more easily lose ten thousand men than the British one thousand. The war is not yet ended.

A CANADIAN MEMBER EXPELLED FROM PARLIAMENT.—In the lower house of the Canadian Parliament, on the 12th, Mr. John O'Farrell, member from the county of Lothiniere, was expelled from his seat. His offence was the violent seizure of the poll book of the parish of St. Sylvester, from the hands of the returning officer. Mr. O'Farrell assisted subsequently in the defacement of the poll-book, and the falsification of the returns, in order to secure his election. Parliament has also disfranchised the county, whence the member came, the disfranchisement to continue until the proper steps are taken to secure a peaceful contest.

HEALTH OF MR. GIDDINGS.—Hon. JOSHUA R. GIDDINGS writes to the Ashtabula Sentinel as follows:

I see the papers have noticed the recurrence of the sudden indisposition to which I was subjected last year and the year before. It is true that I was for a moment unconscious but the attack bore no comparison with that of last year. Indeed, it was so slight that my physician endeavor to encourage me with the hope of a perfect recovery; a hope, however, in which I have not for a year past indulged, nor do I now entertain it.

THE MOUNT VERNON SHYLOCK.—The New-Orleans Pecayune gives Mr. John A. Washington the Mount Vernon Shylock, the following "first rate notice."

There should be some appropriate recognition of this sordid speculator. Nothing occurs to us more fitting, if it were only possible, than that Indies should make it a further condition, that after the purchase is completed, the seller should personally renounce the name of Washington, and adopt some other to his himself. It would only require a house of a few thousand more, to obtain his consent; and there is not a legislature extent that would not pass a law, unanimously and gladly, to legalize the change.

ROCK ISLAND BRIDGE.—The suit of James Ward against the Bridge, for its removal as a nuisance, is set down to be heard at Burlington, Iowa, before Judge LOVE, on the 29th day of June. The witnesses in this city and vicinity will be notified in due season of the time they will be needed there, that they may not be detained waiting for their turn to be examined.

A FLOGGING CASE.—A strong-armed woman at Smyrna, Delaware, flogged a fellow severely on the piazza of the hotel, for seducing her husband to the tavern, where the pair would indulge too freely in drink. She then offered her arm to her husband, and conducted him home.

The Late British Reverses in India.

The Bombay correspondent of the London News gives a detailed account of the reverses which the British army has experienced since the capture of Lucknow. It was supposed that the judicious distribution of the army after the capture, would have prevented any surprise, but the rebels instead of falling back on Lucknow, returned eastward on Beiwa and Pinahad, crossed the Gogra where Rowcroft's force were stationed, and engaged that officer. The rebels were beaten at Amora with great loss, Col. Rowcroft, with only 1200 men, having killed over 1,000 of the enemy and dispersed an army of over 15,000. After the action, the insurgent masses separated, a portion crossing at Tanda and penetrating the Ghorrackpore and Azimghur districts, where they were rallied by Koor-Singh. Elated by the possession of so fine a force, Koor-Singh started for Benares, and on the 23d ult. his vanguard were within twenty miles of that place. The garrison of Azimghur, hearing of the approach of a body of insurgents, went out to meet them, and came into action near Atrowlee. The British won a victory, but it was dearly paid for. Col. Milman committed the same mistake as did Gen. Windham at Cawnpore. Col. Milman, after his victory, retired slowly, hearing, doubtless, of the advance of a superior force. But the enemy came down upon him in overwhelming numbers. He lost his camp, and had to hurry into Azimghur, and make hasty preparations for defence. Koor Singh hastened to attack, and on the 24th had completely surrounded the British force and opened batteries on the entrenchments. No time had been lost in the meanwhile in sending news of the disaster to Benares, and the news arrived there late on the evening of the 26th. On the 28th, Sir Edward Lugard, with the 34th, 84th and 20th regiments, the military train, some native cavalry and artillery, marched rapidly towards Azimghur. There can be doubt of the final result. Koor Singh will be beaten, but great anxiety is felt in the meanwhile for the garrison of the beleaguered entrenchment, as well as for the fifty dragoons sent out in the strange conveyance I have described.

A letter from Benares of the 27th ult says:

I have another reverse to chronicle. Two companies of her her Majesty's 54th, with Madras cavalry, and one hundred Sikhs and two guns, I believe, went out with the magistrate, at a place near Suraon, between Allahabad and Goheegunge. The force came up suddenly to a spot surrounded by a jungle. A large body of rebels were comfortably settled therein, and opened with six guns. After sustaining the fire for an hour, we were obliged to retreat with the loss of the officer in command of the Madras cavalry, and very many others killed and wounded.

On the 21st, the Punjaub Infantry attacked a party of rebels, and suffered severely in their attempts to capture a gun in a narrow street. Major Wilde, the commandant, and Capt. Hood, the second in command, being severely wounded. The position was subsequently forced and 140 of the enemy killed. The same evening two officers, Messrs. Cape and Thackwell, straying into the town beyond the pickets, were murdered. On the 23d a force, under General Grant, proceeded on a three days' expedition to disperse some rebels in the neighborhood towards Sectopore, fifteen guns were captured and 200 men slain. One officer, McDonell, of the 2d Punjaub cavalry, was killed in this affair.

On the 24th the grand army began to break up, the Ghoorkhas marching towards Fyzabad, and the siege of Lucknow may be considered to have terminated. The total loss of the British was about 70 officers and 1,100 men killed and wounded; that of the enemy it is impossible to compute, but it could not have been less than 4,000 killed.

A repulse of the British troops took place on the Island of Beyt, in the Gulf of Cutch. This Island, which is commanded by a small fort, was attacked three or four days ago by a force of about 120 men of her Majesty's 4th Regiment, from Kurrachee, commanded by Capt. Bailey, of the Honorable Company's Artillery. The troops landed in boats from the Prince Arthur, with two guns, and proceeded against the fort, which was held by a garrison of insurgent Fleets or Waghres.

By direction of Captain Bailey, four men were told off to blow up the gate with powder bags. They advanced boldly to perform this hazardous duty, but they were met by a murderous fire from the enemy, well covered behind the walls and in the jungle. The second attempt was made with equal unsuccessful. Capt. Bailey was shot through the body, and then killed and thirty wounded and the party was obliged finally to re-embark without having accomplished its purpose of dislodging the Rhoel garrison of Beyt. Subsequently the place was abandoned and re-occupied by us.

P. S.—The latest news from Benares, of the 30th March, says that the rebels at Azimghur were pressing Colonel Milman very hard, one gun especially causing him serious annoyance. A sortie was made unsuccessfully to take the gun, and Capt. Bedford of the 37th was killed. On the 29th 100 men of the 37th and 20th foot, and 110 Madras rifles, were sent on from Benares. The 15th foot from Allahabad have proceeded via Ghauzepore.

Personal and Political.

We learn from the 13th Lodi Garden State that David Crandall and C. E. and E. B. Crandall—father and sons—editors and publishers of that paper, have sold out their interests to Mr. Newlin, and retired from the field of editorial labor, to the more congenial field of agriculture. David Crandall is a fellow of "infinite jest," and has been wont to set our editorial table "in a roar," by his quaint and funny sayings.

A citizen of Kansas City writes that a prospectus for another paper has made its appearance in that city, "and from the neat style of the prospectus and the promises of its proprietors, J. M. Bates and G. W. Gibson, we are likely to have quite a splendid addition to the editorial corps of Western Missouri. The Western Metropolitan is to be published weekly, in Kansas City, and is to be independent in politics. The first number is to be issued on the 18th day of June next. Mr. Bates, who, it is understood is to fill the post of editor, is a young man of brilliant literary attainments, and was, until lately, the assistant editor of the Missouri Statesman.

Hon. J. B. Gardenshire is announced in the Jefferson City (Mo.) Enquirer as a candidate for the Legislature from Cole County. He will personally canvass his District, and will, no doubt, work a healthy revolution in the opinions of the people of that part of the State. His opponent is Maj. R. B. Corder, who was first a Whig, then a Know Nothing, and is now a National Democrat, and will be badly beaten.

Hon. James Hughes, Representative in Congress from the Bloomington (Ills) District, of Indiana, has written a letter to his constituents, attempting a defense of his course on the Lecompton swindle, and asking for a re-nomination. We hope his party will give the people a chance to have a lick at him.

From Washington.

[Special Dispatch to the New York Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, May 18, 1858.

Mr. Wright of New Jersey, the Doorkeeper just elected, is a Lecompton Democrat. Adrain of New Jersey nominated him, and all the Douglas Democrats voted for him except Harris of Illinois, who scattered. It was found impossible to combine the opposition on Truesdale.

Some of the Douglas Democrats went into the Democratic caucus and voted for Wright as the caucus candidate. Haskin and Clark did not attend the caucus, but voted for Wright for personal reasons. Wright has been Assistant Doorkeeper for several Congresses, and is well qualified for the office.

No intelligence has yet been received at the War Department confirming the telegraphic reports concerning the Mormon exodus, and they are discredited there, because it is believed that, if founded in fact, the officers at Fort Leavenworth would have immediately dispatched the information, since material movements of the campaign depend upon its truth or falsity. Gen. Scott is, however, inclined to give the report credence.

Newspaper sentiments representing Col. Kane as being an agent of or charged with any mission whatever for the Government to Brigham Young, are wholly unfounded. He went voluntarily, without disclosing anything else than a general purpose, and indicating no plan. The President, when informed of his intention, endeavored to dissuade him, but failing, gave him a general letter of recommendation, designed to secure attention and protection from public officers at remote points while prosecuting his journey.

HEAVY ROBBERY.—A few days ago Adams & Co's Express was robbed of $10,000 between Charleston, S. C., and Columbus, Ga. The company promptly paid over the amount to the parties who entrusted it to their care.

THE PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The roll of the Synods was then called, and the records presented and placed in the hands of the committees appointed to examine them.

PROGRESS AND EXTENT OF THE REVIVAL.

The roll of the Presbyteries was then called, and the Narrative of each handed to the Clerk. The members made a brief verbal statement of the progress and extent of the religious interest in their respective Presbyteries, as their names were called:

SYNOD OF ALBANY.—Presbytery of Champlain.—Rev. Stephen H. Williams, of Peru, N.Y., said that since the last meeting of the Presbytery a great number of the churches had enjoyed revivals of religion. There had been added to the Church in Plattsburg 50 new members; in Keeseville 70; in Beekmantown 6, and in Malone 4. Indeed, all had been blessed to a greater or less extent. Rev. Cyrenius Ransom, of Morish, said that emigration and death had seemed of late years likely to depicte the churches of the Presbytery, but that the recent awakening had restored them to a full measure of prosperity.

Troy.—Rev. Andrew J. Fennell said that he could make no statistical report, but he was able to say that the churches had shared unexampled in the influences of the Holy Spirit. Considerable accessions had been made to nearly or quite all the churches.

Albany.—Rev. Stephen Bush, of Cohoes, said that the report of the last Presbytery had not yet reached him, though he expected it before the adjournment of the Assembly. In its absence, he would state that the churches had enjoyed largely the general blessing, and that a greatly increased interest was manifested in the Sabbath School.

Catskill.—Rev. Alexander Trotter, of Centreville, said that almost all the churches in the Catskill Presbytery had been greatly refreshed and strengthened. One of the prominent accesories to the revival movement was the Sabbath School.

SYNOD OF UTICA.—Presbytery of St Lawrence.—Rev. Baruch B. Beckwith, of Gouverneur, said that all the churches had been favored with revivals. The most striking feature, perhaps, was the reawakening of the workers themselves. A special and decided work had been manifested in the town of Potsdam.

Watertown.—Rev. Peter Snyder, of Watertown, said that in the town where he resided, one hundred new members had been added to the church during the development movement.

Utica.—Rev. Aliot H. Payson, of New Hartford, said that the late religious interest had been the greatest ever known in the Presbytery, both in the awakening of members and the conversion of sinners. Large numbers had been added in Utica. A particular feature of the movement was the harmony and union of all evangelical Christians.

SYNOD OF GENEVA.—Presbytery of Geneva.—Rev. S. U. Gridley, D. D., of Waterloo, remarked that several churches had been particularly blessed. In Geneva 70 new members had been added. A large number had been added in Romulus; also in Ovid. At Waterloo there had been a precious work and was yet continued without any diminution of interest. Elder R. B. Jones of Penn Yan said that all the churches in Yates county had been blessed. In Penn Yan 42 had been added—29 on profession of their faith. Mr. Jones bore special testimony to the efficacy of the Sabbath Schools, and said it was designed to have one established in every school district in the country.

Bath.—Rev. William R. Downs, of Howard, said there were only two settled pastors in the Presbytery and a few stated supplies. Consequently the revival movement had not been so conspicuous there as in some other localities. Yet the societies had been very greatly refreshed. In Tyrone, Howard, Hornellsville and Bath the work had been particularly marked.

Chemung.—Rev. Benjamin Russell of Watkins, said that the first effects of the revival movement were not noticed in the Presbytery until the middle of January, but then the work began with peculiar interest and success in Painted Post, Elmira, Havana, Madison and other places. In one church over sixty had been added, and the work was still in progress.

Ithaca.—Rev. Augustus Pomeroy of Groton said that the Presbytery had been largely blessed in the prayer meeting revival. The churches were feeble indeed, but all had been blessed. The matured mind of the community seemed to be particularly reached and many of the most promising young men had been converted.

Pennsylvania.—Rev. R. J. McCullough of Tioga observed that being one of the smallest of the Presbyteries, and being situated in a lumbering country, it was not especially susceptible to moral influences. The leaders and ruffianes were not generally aware of their moral needs. Yet there had been a great outpouring of the Spirit and all the churches had been strengthened. One house of worship had been erected by a lumber firm in New York city—which now accommodated 100 church members.

Lyons.—Rev. Geo. R. H. Shumway of Newark, N. Y., said that though one of the youngest Presbyteries this had been greatly blessed. He referred, particularly to the agency of laymen in the work. In Palmyra the revival was almost without precedent. There had been very little preaching but much prayer.

SYNOD OF CINCINNATI.—Presbytery of Cincinnati.—Rev. G. S. Boardman, of Cincinnati, remarked that there had been a deep interest throughout the season, and paid a tribute to the agency of the female members of the church in carrying forward the work.

Logan.—Rev. T. M. Hopkins of Dayton, referred to the highly prosperous condition of the Auburn Theological Seminary. At the late meeting of the Presbytery in Auburn, over 50 young men were seen bathed in tears and filled with emotion in view of the responsibilities they were about to assume. Not a church in the Presbytery had been omitted in the revival movement. Rev. Edwin Hall, D.D., also bore testimony to the depth of feeling in the Theological Seminary.

Oxford.—Rev. Samuel N. Robinson, of Walnut's Point, said that the churches in this Presbytery had been exposed to considerable detachment from spiritualism and other forms of error, but the work of God been marked and effective. In the town of Homer 56 had been added.

It being 12 o'clock a motion was made to adjourn—pending which Rev. J. Ambrose Wight from the Committee on Devotional Exercises, reported a resolution that this evening be set apart for discourses from the Rev. A. Grant of the Zulu Mission, Africa, and the Rev. A. Voorman of the Cantoe Mission; also that Monday evening be set apart for a discourse from Rev. Thornton A. Mills of Indianapolis on Education for the Ministry. Concurred in.

Whereupon the Assembly adjourned to half past two P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Assembly was called to order at 2:30 P. M., and opened with prayer by the Moderator. The minutes of the morning session were read and approved.

The reception of the narratives of the Presbyteries and remarks of the Commissioners were proceeded with:

Presbytery of Tioga.—Rev. Samuel H. Hall, of Owego, said that it had pleased God to bless all the churches—particularly those of Binghamton, Berkshire, Aurora and Owego. The revival in Owego was without a parallel. It had swept through the most influential classes of the community. Many young men were lamenting their thoughts in the midnight, several educated men, considerably advanced in life, had expressed a desire to be engaged in the Lord's work. Elder Alvan Wheeler spoke of the revival in Binghamton.

SYNOD OF SUSQUEHANNA.—Presbytery of Champaign.—Rev. H. W. Gilbert, of Greene, said that a special work had been done in the town of Greene. A feature had been introduced in this Presbytery—that of holding associated meetings in the various towns alternately.

Delaware.—Rev. Isaac D. Cornwell, of Hancock, said that the churches had been lately depleted by emigration to the West, but the revival had done a beneficent work. The Sabbath School interest was decidedly on the increase.

SYNOD OF GENESEE.—Presbytery of Genesee.—Rev. Daniel Russell, of Pike, remarked that the revival had presented no striking features, but its influence has been gentle and refreshing. In Salavia between 40 and 50 had been converted. In Attica a considerable number had been converted. In Pike 30 or 40 had been added to the church. Many Universalists in middle life had been brought to see the error of their ways.

Rochester.—Rev. Ebenezer M. Toof, of Baliwinsville, said that the Presbytery had experienced a powerful work of grace. The Sabbath Schools were particularly strengthened.

Ontario.—Rev. Edwin G. Moore, of Lakeville, said that the report of the Presbytery had not yet arrived; but there had been additions to the various churches of from 10 to 50 each. The Sabbath Schools were very full and interesting.

Niagara.—Rev. O. Holmes Barnard, of Lyndonville, said that all the churches had shared in the outpouring of the Spirit.

Buffalo.—Rev. Timothy, Stillman, of Dunkirk, said that until quite recently Cattaraugus county was as much missionary ground as Minnesota. A short time after the completion of the N. Y. and Erie Railroad, a few men in Allegany established a church. Lately they had experienced a revival, and some twenty families had been converted, among them several of those who had contributed to the house of worship. In the town of Jamestown an extraordinary work had been done—500 having been hopefully converted. All the churches in Buffalo, Silver Creek, &c. had shared in the revival.

SYNOD OF NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY.—Presbytery of Hudson.—Rev. Obadiah M. Johnson of New Hampton, said that there had been a conflict in the Presbytery between the Old and New Schools of the Church—which doubtless had operated to debar the Churches from the blessed effects of the revival. Yet the same general features had been manifested there as elsewhere.

North River.—Elder Joseph Bartlett of Poughkeepsie, said that very many of the youth and children of the city had been converted. A Union Prayer meeting had been held in Poughkeepsie with highly beneficial results. The laymen had taken hold of the work with peculiar zeal.

Long Island.—Rev. James Sinclair of Cutchogue, said that the Presbytery was small and confined to a small territory; but it had not been without its share in the general religious influence. On Shelter Island there has been a powerful work, resulting in 90 conversions—so that now one-half the inhabitants of the Island were followers of the Lamb.

New York, 2d.—Rev. George C. Lucas of N. Y. City, said that to some of the Churches in that city there had been added 200 members, to others 150 and to some as high as 300. He referred in general terms to the wonderful work as detailed in the public prints. Elder James W. Bishop gave a brief account of the rise and progress of the awakening in this city, commencing with the prayer meetings of laymen in the John street church.

New York 4th.—Rev. Henry B. Smith D. D., of New York, said that no verbal description could convey an adequate idea of the success of the revival in this city. The commercial revulsion had become the cloud upon which rested God's bow of promise. Probably treble or quadruple the number had been added, of those of any previous year in the Presbytery. Rev. Charles S. Lindsley, of New Rochelle, remarked that it was an error to suppose that the work in New York city was carried forward without great exertions on the part of both clergy and laity. He thought that it was within bounds to say that 500 new members had been added in the 4th Presbytery. Elder H. D. Ranny called upon the Assembly to rejoice that God had gone into that nickel city, where until recently one could not come an inch of a spittle at His name.

Brooklyn.—Rev. William S. Karr, of Brooklyn, said that the city where he labored had not differed from New York in the movement. The ferry-boats and rail cars had become the confessionals of the Church. A fund between two churches in the Presbytery had been healed by their being brought to the prayer-meeting point.

Rev. J. Ambrose Wight, from the Committee on Devotional Exercises, here reported the order of religious services for (to morrow) Sunday. [The appointments will be found on the first page.] The report was concurred in.

An invitation to a social entertainment at the house of Mr. William H. Brown, was received and accepted.

Presbytery of Newark.—Rev. J. Yen Smith, D.D., of Newark, said that over 300 hopeful conversions had been made in this Presbytery. In the church at Orange, 109 were added at one communion.

Rahway.—Rev. Henry F. Wadsworth of New Foundland, N. J., said that out of 19 churches in the Presbytery 16 had been visited in a special manner—resulting in about 500 conversions.

Monmouth.—Rev. Willard Richardson of Kirkwood, N. Y., told of some remarkable conversions in his Presbytery—among them the case of a returned filibuster, late of Central America. Two of the Deans of Montrose, Pa., also made a few remarks.

SYNOD OF PENNSYLVANIA.—Presbytery of Wilmington.—Rev. Geo. F. Wiswell of Wilmington, Del., said that the churches had very generally experienced the work of grace. One church containing about 40 members had recently received an accession of 50 new converts. About 200 conversions had been made in Wilmington.

Philadelphia, 4th.—Rev. B. B. Hotchkin of Philadelphia gave a brief statement of the revival in that city, referring particularly to the prayer meetings in Jayne's Hall. Rev. John W. Dulles referred to the extraordinary work done among the firemen of the city.

Philadelphia, 4th.—Rev. Elias J. Richards and Rev. Cornelius Earle responded briefly. About 500 had been added to the church on profession of faith.

The Annual Report of the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian House in Philadelphia was then received, read and referred to the Committee on Education.

The Permanent Committee on Church Extension presented their usual report, which was read and accepted.

On motion the report of the Permanent Publication Committee was made the special order for Monday, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

It was then announced that a free excursion was tendered to the members of the Assembly and their wives, through the politeness of the officers of the Chicago and Milwaukee R. R. to Lake Forest, to-morrow, (Saturday)—the train to leave the depot at 9 o'clock A. M. and return in the afternoon. Invitation accepted.

Whereupon at a quarter before 6 o'clock the Assembly adjourned, to meet on Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

UNION.—The Galena and Chicago railroad have pursued a very unjust and partial course in their management of the road for some time past. They take wheat from Beloit to Chicago for seven cents, while from Rockford to Chicago, which is not as far by several miles, they charge ten cents; and so of lumber and all merchandize. From Beloit to Chicago the fare is $2, while from Rockford it is $2.75. In consequence of this state of affairs, the business within four miles of Rockford has their wheat to Beloit, where the buyers having this unfair advantage, can pay three cents more on the bushel, the citizens have called a public meeting to see what is best to be done about it. If any thing can be done to remedy the evil which now exists, we think that Rockford is singled out as an object of monopolistic resentment in their report. This is not so, however. Our own town is now suffering from this unjust discrimination, and thousands of dollars of trade legitimately belonging to it, has been diverted by the means. We don't propose to do anything about it, for we cannot help ourselves, as we can see, and must submit to it. Still we cannot help saying that it is certainly a pity to pill for Baltimore as well as Rockford to swallow.—Rockford Standard.

SENATOR REID OF NORTH CAROLINA.—We learn from a paragraph in the Charlotte (N. C.) Democrat, that Senator Reid had experienced two or three hemorrhages since his departure from Richmond, and that he will, consequently, not be able to resume his seat in the Senate the present session, if ever.

Fourth Democracy—The Frauds at the Court House.

[From the Peoria Transcript.]

The Democracy of Peoria is not of the "harmonious" kind. It has come to such a pitiful pass that at every little gathering, no matter for what purpose, a knock-down must of necessity occur. For a time the war was confined to the Buchanan and Douglas factions, and the Court House was periodically turned into a Pandemonium in which was exhibited an entertaining variety of feats in fisticuff. At the caucus on Tuesday evening, however, the quarrel was confined solely to the Salamanders themselves. The Douglasites were outside the ring—merely lookers-on in Venice. The Buchananites, having managed to get out of humor with everybody else, very naturally found it difficult to preserve peace among themselves. The "bone of contention" is the Post Office. For some months past, Old Buck has adroitly exhibited it as a tempting prize, inviting Democrats to swallow Lecompton, and grab for it. Quite a number of them have been foolish enough to do so, and have kept up an incessant clamor, like a pack of dogs barking for an uplifted bone, each one expecting that it would fall to his lot to receive it. It has been supposed, until very recently, that Major Peter Sinerah, our worthy Postmaster, was a Douglas man, although nobody appeared to have definite information to that effect. He has, at all events, kept very quiet, and whenever a Buchanan meeting has been held, has, some say from choice, others from necessity, remained a passive spectator. On this occasion, the Major seems to have concluded that he would show his hand, and save the aspirants for his office any further anxiety. When, therefore, the made his appearance at the meeting with a well organized force, the office-expectants were amazed and alarmed. Soon after the meeting was organized by the appointment of Judge Gale to the chair, the Major arose and proceeded at once to "carry the war into Africa" by charging Major G. W. Raney of the Union with having been bribed to support the administration by government patronage in the shape of advertising. Major Raney at once resented this delicate allusion as an insult and rushed at Maj. Sweat with his fists doubled. Both parties indulged for a few moments in attempts to disfigure each other's smellers, but being awkward pugilists, abandoned the game and sat down amid a general laugh at their expense.

Later in the evening, W. Howell Robinson and Major Sweet got excited and called each other decidedly impolite names. Robinson, in a fit of desperation, crammed his mouth for an old quid of tobacco, but not finding one, picked up his hat and let drive at the Major's head, whereupon that gentleman made a rush at him evidently with some malicious intention upon his nose or eyes. At this exciting juncture several persons mixed in the melee, and for a few moments the battle proceeded with considerable fury. Mr. Collins, Major Sweat's son-in-law and post office agent on the Peoria and Oquawka railroad, sustained the most injury, having his shoulder dislocated. What other damage was done we have not been able to learn.

Distribution of Congressional Speeches.

WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, May 11, 1858.

Few persons outside of Washington are aware of how heavy a tax of money, time and labor is imposed upon the Senators and Representatives here by the immense circulation of speeches under frank of members. The number sent off is in the aggregate enormous, and cannot but exert a prodigious influence upon the public opinion of the country. The following are the statistics of the numbers circulated by the Senators of the respective sections during the first five months of the present session. The average cost of the documents, including what is paid to clerks for directing them, may be computed, I believe, at two cents each, or $2 per hundred, which, of course, is paid for by the members out of their own pockets.

The Wisconsin Bribery Case.

The idea of bribing the majority of a Legislature to pass a Railroad Charter, by direct, palpable gifts, seems at first, almost incredible.—Yet, it has been done in the United States before now. Something like sixty years ago, the entire Legislature of Georgia was bribed! It was in the case of the Yazoo Grant. The Legislature sold several millions of acres of the Yazoo lands for a song, to a corporation by a company of speculators. Every member of the Legislature was given lands—about one thousand acres apiece—by the Company. The matter became known, and the people met at Milledgeville, the seat of Government, and burnt the journal and records of the Legislature on the public green. The Act was repealed the following year, and the question arose before the Supreme Court of the United States, whether the purchasers under the grant of the Legislature were valid. The Supreme Court decided in their favor, and thus established the validity of contracts.

SHAKE AND BURN! SHAKE AND BURN! SHAKE AND BURN!—This is the life of agony endured by the sufferer from Fever and Ague. He wanders like an uncertain shadow, never knowing what moment he may be prostrated, and therefore disinclined to give any serious attention to business. He is a burden to himself and a burden to his friends who are worn out in administering to his wants. This is the condition of thousands in town and country. It is no exaggeration to say, that Fever and Ague kills more people than any twenty other diseases in America. For a sure and speedy cure of this terrible affliction, we take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which have already achieved a wide reputation for rapid and powerful effects in renovating the system prostrated by this disease. For sale by druggists and dealers generally. my15-2w

ANOTHER MIRACLE—THE DEAD TO LIFE!—A gentleman, in whose family has been for generations past, a valuable "Indian Receipt" for Consumption and all diseases of the blood, but owing to a traditional obligation was never used but by its members; until some months since his minister, whose only child was despaired of by his physicians, solicited him for the use of it. Reluctantly it was complied, and a most miraculous cure was the result. The reverend gentleman, through sympathy for his fellow-men, has continued the use of the recipe how wrong it was to keep it from the world, and now offers it for the benefit of his suffering fellow-beings. ☞ If all our readers who are troubled with liver complaint, Jaundice, or Dyspepsia, will read the advertisement in another column, of Dr. Sandford's Invigorator, and then do as we have done—get a bottle, we should not see so many sickly, half-dead, despairing people as now meet our gaze at almost every corner, for there never was a remedy of which so much is said, and that performs so nearly what its proprietors say it will do. It came to us so highly recommended that we could not fail to try it, and a trial has convinced us, without a doubt, that it is the best family medicine in use. We take it for Headache, Sour Stomach, Biliousness, and any little bodily ills that are common, and it does produce a pleasant state of feeling to the sick, and we feel better after using it a few times, these little ills grow less and less; there is a conquest of being entirely free from them by a continuance in the use of the Invigorator. (See Advertisement.)

☞ Does any of our high livers ever eat too much dinner? If any of our readers have cause who tempt their appetite a little too far, I will tell a secret that will lead them to the enjoyment of their dinners without a visit from that gouty old gentleman, Dyspepsia. Take a dose of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator after eating, and you'll never be troubled with indigestion; but on the contrary, before the next meal time approaches, the appetite will be sharpened to appreciate any kind of [illegible] food place or source, the Invigorator will fix the m[illegible]right at once, for there is something in it that, to use the expression of a friend, will let a man eat gravel stones, and take the Invigorator and they will digest. We have tried it to double doses, on one or two occasions, for sick headache, and it acts like a charm.

What we want to say to our readers, young or old, is, if anything ails you, go without delay and get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and if it don't cure, come and tell us, for we want to see one person that it will not benefit. (See advertisement.)

COMMERCIAL.

CHICAGO WHOLESALE BAZAAR.

OFFICE OF THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, Friday Evening, May 21, 1858.

There is scarcely any variation to note in business. Standard spring wheat opened dull at 61½ in store this morning, though a cargo and a lot of 7,000 bushels is reported as being sold before 'Change at 64c free on board.

Corn maintains a steadiness quite unusual, and finds ready sale at current rates.

Oats are a shade better if anything; a sale of 7,000 bushels being among the reports at 28½ afloat, which would be equivalent to 28¾ on board. But as this is only a single instance it may be more attributable to the nice condition of the oats than to the actual feeling of the market.

Barley was on the move to-day, with a fair demand and full prices.

Rye is quiet and unchanged.

Transactions in flour were limited but prices are very well sustained.

Business in Pork is not very lively, and prices are not as firm.

The hide trade is quiet and prices are well sustained. Nice lots will bring outside figures readily.

Freights are unchanged and vessels not plenty. The following charters were made to-day: Schr. Reeve to Oswego with wheat at 8c loading here, or 8½c loading at Racine; schr. Josephine wheat to Oswego at 8c; schr Shook, corn to Oswego at 7c; S. B. Pomeroy, wheat to Buffalo at 2½ City of Cedensburg corn 7 and wheat 8c to Oswego; and C. B. Blair corn to same place 7c.
